

EPA completes Taracorp study

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Three problem areas have been found by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in completing its remedial investigation of lead contamination at Taracorp.

Those concerns are: The residential areas of Granite City and Madison within 1/2-mile of the site at 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, a number of alleys in Venice, and parts of Eagle Park. Byproducts from the plant were used for paving and fill in Eagle Park and Venice.

"Right off, we want to make it clear this is not Times Beach," Steve Frederick, EPA spokesman, said. "No one is going to have to be moved out. Really, what we want is for people to be aware that a danger exists."

"There is a danger for children playing in the soil, especially small children. People who grow their own vegetables also may face danger."

Children, he said, may eat the dirt or, if eating outside, may place dirty hands in their mouths.

"The best thing is to watch their diet; make sure it is balanced. A deficiency of calcium or iron increases the susceptibility to harm from lead. Also, fruits and vegetables need to be washed," Frederick said.

A secondary lead smelter, closed by Taracorp in 1983, was used mainly for reprocessing lead-bearing scrap — used batteries and telephone cable sheathing. The site was placed on the EPA "Superfund" list in 1983.

The most recent soil samples showed lead levels ranging from 45 to 4,150 parts per million in the area within 1/2-mile of the site and levels from 63 to 8,200 parts per million at the paving sites.

The Federal Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry considers 500 to 1,000 parts per million potentially hazardous, according to the EPA, while other experts say any lead exposure should be avoided.

The next step in the cleanup is a feasibility study, which according to Frederick should be completed by next year. That study evaluates various methods for cleanup and then a potential solution will be proposed.

At that time a public meeting will be held and public comment considered.

"We like to have the public's input," Frederick said. "They live there with the problem and are familiar with it and can really help."

"We had one site where a creek ran by and we were worried about the contamination getting in the creek. At a public meeting a man stood up and said, 'Why don't you just move the creek?' I looked at the map and said, 'Yeah, why not?'"

After the feasibility study, a Record of Decision will be made and approximately six months after that, cleanup will begin.

"The process is in motion. I know that people wonder why, after a problem is identified, we don't just come in with shovels and get it cleaned up," Frederick said. "But we have to do the detail work first. We want to remove the danger completely and safely."

THE LIGHTER CIRCLE on the map shows the danger area from lead contamination.

Secretaries talks resume on Thursday

GRANITE CITY — Negotiations between District 9 and the Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743 Secretaries Council are scheduled to resume Thursday evening.

Superintendent Gib Walmsley said little has developed.

"It has been very quiet around here," Walmsley said of the board office.

"I hope that it stays that way."

Teachers and other employees returned to work more than two weeks ago, following a three-week strike.

Teachers have already reached a tentative agreement with the board.

Following the secretaries' negotiations, a ratification vote will be taken.

Wolf, Voloski tangle over setting spending priorities

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — There is danger Illinois will turn into "another East St. Louis (financially)," according to Tom Voloski, Republican candidate for 11th District state representative.

In a press release, Voloski said he believes the only way Illinois can get a grasp on its money problem is to reprioritize state spending.

He said education should have top priority while tourism, advertising, the Superconducting Super Collider and Chicago White Sox are unnecessary and the least priority.

In his release, Voloski said, "Legislators like Sam Wolf have failed to practice the leadership necessary to pull the state from its financial woes."

Wolf, however, was quick to respond to Voloski's latest charges. "Let's start from the beginning," said Wolf, the incumbent 11th representative and Voloski's opponent in November.

"I resent his implying I supported funding the White Sox stadium when everyone in Illinois except my opponent knows that I didn't."

Wolf said Voloski is wrong about the super collider.

"It's one of the biggest opportunities in the history of the state of Illinois," the lawmaker said.

Wolf said the program would mean 6,000 jobs in construction alone and, when finished, have 2,500 permanent positions.

"It would bring in hundreds of millions in additional revenues," he said. Wolf said that although seven states are still in the running as the SSC location, experts believe only Texas and Illinois have a real chance.

Pontoon looks toward census for help

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Hoping to qualify for more revenue from the state, the village may seek an early census.

"In my opinion, we need a census. Although there will be one in 1990, I think it will pay us in a lot of ways to have one now," Mayor Glen Wilson said.

"We are losing a lot of money, and whatever it costs I think it would be money well spent," Wilson said at a recent board of trustees meeting.

Estimated cost of a special census was $5,000 when the village first inquired a few years ago, he said.

In 1980, the last official census, the village population was recorded at 3,346. Trustee Carl Hackney, former economic developer for the village, has estimated the present population at close to 5,000.

"Let's quit talking about it and do it," Trustee Louis Whit (See PONTOON, Page 6A)

Odor solved, boom isn't

By Andy Slering

GRANITE CITY — A noxious smell irritated passersby Friday morning near Edwardsville Road and 20th Street. Its source was the Reilly Tar and Chemical Co., located on the south side of the intersection.

But officials are still puzzled by the source of a loud boom that shook the area shortly after 9 p.m. Thursday.

The boom was heard downtown and in wide areas of Granite City and Nameoki Township but neither police nor fire officials had an explanation (See BOOM, Page 6A)

Sr. Mary Thomas sat down after serving as keynote speaker at the annual Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce dinner Thursday night only to be called up to the podium seconds later for an even more distinguished honor: the chamber's Citizen of Achievement for 1988.

The Chairman of the Board of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, Sr. Mary Thomas Jirouch was honored for years of service to the community. The petite, silver-haired nun said she was honored to stand before the audience of 250 that packed the Sunset Hills Country Club in Edwardsville.

Presenting the award was Mary Brown, chairman of the chamber's Community Betterment committee. "Sister Mary Thomas was willing to take risks when Granite City was experiencing difficult economic times," said Brown. "Her most notable decision, for us at least, was to keep her institution in Granite City rather than move it to an outlying area."

Brown also cited, among other things, the administrator's development and support of a social work department; the Mobile Meals program that feeds nearly 100 people; the Hospice of Madison County; and a free immunization clinic for low-income families, a clinic that is now in its 27th year of operation.

Sr. Mary Thomas was also a St. Louis Globe-Democrat Woman of Achievement in 1985. She was first appointed president of SEMC in 1962, after coming to the hospital two years before.

During her address she said it was community support that "made St. Elizabeth what it is today." The institution, with 1,250 employees, is the second

Dr. Loitman elected SEMC chief of staff

Dr. Bernard S. Loitman, a radiologist on staff at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for 27 years, was elected chief of staff at SEMC by the medical center's physicians at the October general staff meeting.

Members of the medical staff also elected Dr. Riaz Naseer as president-elect and Dr. Lawrence Harmon as secretary-treasurer.

Loitman formerly served as president-elect, with Dr. Kanubhai M. Patel as chief of staff and Dr. Athanase N. Nicolaidis as secretary-treasurer.

"We appreciate the hard work the previous officers extended toward St. Elizabeth Medical Center and the care of its patients," said Sister Mary Thomas, SEMC chairman of the board. "Many times their work is overlooked, and their service as members of the Credential Executive Committee is an extremely important function of the medical center."

The three new officers are all expected to gain approval by the medical center's Board of Directors. Each position is a two-year term.

Loitman's first actions as chief of staff were to recommend to the governing board two department heads for vacant positions, and the board approved Dr.

Anthony Morrison as chief of Obstetrics and Dr. Frank Diopeda as chief of Family Practice.

Other departmental chiefs currently serving three-year terms are: Dr. Alex Datuin, chief of Neuro-Psychiatry; Dr. Robert Trinity, chief of Pathology; Dr. William Chen, chief of Dentistry; Dr. Shaqique Ahmad, chief of Pediatrics; Dr. Jeffrey Feinstein, chief of Surgery; Dr. Terry Randell, chief of Anesthesiology; and Dr. Edito Cabal, chief of Radiology.

Dr. Naseer will continue to serve as chief of Medicine in addition to his new position as president-elect.

Loitman is a 1949 graduate of Harvard University and a 1953 graduate of Tufts Medical School, Boston. He originally hailed from Boston.

Naseer was born in India and graduated from Dow Medical School, University of Karachi, in Pakistan in 1970. He joined SEMC in 1979 and specializes in neurology.

Harmon, a doctor of internal medicine and a 10-year veteran of SEMC, received his medical degree from St. Louis University School of Medicine in 1974. He was born in Granite City.

The three new officers preside over 140 physicians representing more than 30 specialty areas.

2 in Metro East run for Supreme Court

By Bill Winter
Staff writer

Two appellate judges from Metro East are nominees for election Nov. 8 as the 5th Judicial District justice on the Illinois Supreme Court.

Democrat Horace L. Calvo, 61, Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, and Republican Thomas M. Welch, 49, Collinsville, are the ballot rivals.

The 10-year term on the seven-member court pays $95,000 a year. The post has been held for the past 18 years by Joseph Goldenherst, Belleville, who is retiring.

Calvo represented the 56th Legislative District in the Illinois House for seven years, resigning to become a Madison County circuit judge in June 1975. Since October 1987, he has served by appointment on the Appellate Court, Mount Vernon.

Calvo regards himself as "just and humane" and says his judicial philosophy is similar to that of the retiring justice.

Calvo adds, "When you've been in the General Assembly making laws, it gives you some advantage when you're interpreting them."

Welch, elected to the appellate court in November 1980, has written 860 opinions and orders. He is a former city attorney and former assistant state's attorney.

The Republican candidate says he offers "independence from politics, lawyers and public interest groups."

"In my campaign, and by my election to the Supreme Court, I seek to restore some of the public's lost faith in the judiciary," Welch comments.

He believes "all 37 counties in the district are important and deserve recognition."

New estimate — Metro East's population up

By Edward T. Hearn
P-R/J Washington bureau

WASHINGTON — Madison County's population grew 1.6 percent from 1980 to 1987, posting an increase that mirrors the growth rate in the rest of the Metro East region and Illinois, according to new Census Bureau estimates.

The bureau announced that Illinois grew by 1.4 percent between April 1980 and July 1987 and absorbed 156,000 new residents. The bureau now estimates the state's population at 11,583,000.

The latest figures show only moderate growth in Metro East. Madison County gained 3,900 people, putting its total population at 251,500. St. Clair County increased 1.2 percent and now has 270,800.

The fastest growing county in the region was Monroe, which grew by 8.1 percent, gaining 1,600 new residents. The county now has 21,700 people, according to Census figures.

Twenty-five of the 102 Illinois counties posted population gains during the seven-year period, with DuPage County in suburban Chicago gaining 84,300 (up 12.8 percent), neighboring Kane County 36,000 (up 13.1 percent) and Lake County on the Wisconsin border 53,900 (up 12.2 percent).

Hlt hardest were counties in the central part of the state. Peoria County lost 18,800 in population (down 9.4 percent), Rock Island County 9,300 (down 5.9 percent), Tazewell County 8,200 (down 6.2 percent), and Fulton County 6,000 (down 13.3 percent). Census figures showed.

Last month, the bureau released figures putting the population of the United States at 243.4 million, almost half of whom (48.9 percent) live in one of the country's 37 metropolitan areas with at least one million people.

Since 1980, the bureau estimates that the nation's population has grown by 7.4 percent.

Phoenix, Ariz., was the fastest growing metropolitan area of a million or more, increasing by 30 percent between 1980 and 1987, the bureau said.

Boom

Friday's cloud of greenish steam or smoke hovered around the highway intersection from about 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. and resulted from hot tar pitch coming in three-wheeled plus dinner.

Plant Manager Larry Pirtle said the pitch, which must be heated to make it fluid, was being transported here in a tank to another through a transfer line that somehow had water in it.

The resulting steam forced open a safety lid designed to open under a sudden rise in pressure, to avoid a rupture of the tank.

When the pressure went down, the lid remained ajar, which is why the smell hovered around the area until workers could get it back in place.

Both Fire Chief Charles Berna and a spokesman for the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said the emission posed no hazard to the public.

Reilly Tar and Chemical's main product is electro-binder pitch, used in the manufacture of aluminum.

Pirtle said the Reilly plant was not responsible for the boom, which was heard in many neighborhoods Thursday night and completed Friday with the presidential debate as a topic of conversation around town.

Some speculated there had been a slag explosion at Granite City Steel, but Ben Johannpeter, spokesman for the company, said the noise had not come from there.

A spokesman for Scott Air Force Base, near Belleville, said there had been no supersonic flights in this area Thursday.

Chamber

Other speeches and awards were given the membership during the current campaign.

Outgoing President Jim Eisenbeis, an executive of Granite City Steel, passed the gavel to new President Joe Hassler, a State Farm insurance agent.

Eisenbeis said the chamber had set eight priorities in the past year, all of which have seen some progress.

First priority, resolving the regional flooding problem, resulted in the current campaign to endorse the tax hike proposal of the Metro East Sanitary District on the Nov. 8 ballot.

Other priorities were improving traffic flow, retention of business, downtown area redevelopment, the Melvin Price Support Center, the Tri City Port District, small business development and the quality of life.

One of the more significant statements by Eisenbeis was that Wal-Mart appears closer to building a store in downtown. He credited personal visits by chamber officials to Bentonville, Ark., home base of Wal-Mart, and massive letter-writing campaign.

While store officials have made no announcements, local authorities have worked feverishly over the last several months to entice the major retailer to locate here.

Other new officers seated were first vice president, Ron Daine of Illinois Power; second vice president, Bart Salton, president of Central bank; and treasurer, Jack Lee, president of First National Bank in Madison.

In other activity, Brenda

Rhoads took over the presidency of the women's division from outgoing leader Judy Stille. The latter encouraged the membership to learn more about the chamber. She said one of the more inspirational aspects is the annual Christmas party for needy children. "That's what our chamber is all about - I'm proud to be a part of it."

Also honored were ambassadors Lacey Randolph and Janet Mills, who helped membership skyrocket last year; 124 new members were realized and only 18 dropped, leaving a net of 106. The goal had been 100.

Also honored for membership recruitment work was Shirley Lee, wife of chamber executive RC Bush.

Walter Milton, a Pepsi-Cola bottling company executive, was named top committee worker.

Pontoon

Trustee Don Rea said the village must first get a commitment from the government to honor the results of the census. "There are firms that do this on a professional basis," he said.

Getting a considerable boost from a higher population figure would be motor fuel tax funds, said Village Clerk Mary Warren.

A large increase in MFT funds could be realized from a larger population figure, she said. The village receives $5,037 a month in fuel tax money, which represents $16.49 per person. The estimate is based on the 1980 census tally.

Community development grants, an amount based on population figures, would be increased, together with housing rehabilitation funds and money for the home weatherization program, Warren said.

"If we are over the (population) figure and have to become a city?" Whittell asked.

"I don't believe that figure is 5,000," Wilson replied.

Warren has contacted the U.S. Census Bureau, Washington, seeking information about procedures for a special census, she said. Officials still are awaiting a reply.

Tokyo String Quartet

Tokyo String Quartet performing on Oct. 20

The Tokyo String Quartet, whose appearances on five continents have included engagements in music capitals throughout the world, will be in the spotlight Oct. 20.

The quartet will present the opening program of the 1988-89 Arts & Issues season at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Thursday, Oct. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

Now in its 18th season, the quartet regularly performs in New York's major halls, with engagements in Lincoln Center's "Great Performers" series, Carnegie Hall's "Great Quartets" series, and Avery Fisher Hall's Mostly Mozart Festival.

The Tokyo String Quartet's many recordings have earned the Grand Prix du Disque du Montreux, Best Chamber Music Recording of the Year award from Stereo Review and Gramophone, and three Grammy nominations.

Three members of the quartet, Kikui Ikeda, Kazuhiko Isomura and Sadao Harada, are graduates of the famous Toho School of Music in Tokyo. The fourth member is Canadian violinist Peter Oundjian, who has studied with Ivan Galamian, Itzhak Perlman and Dorothy DeLay.

The quartet performs on four instruments created between 1656 and 1677 by the Italian luthier, Nicolo Amati. The instruments have been loaned to the ensemble by the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., prompting the Washington Post to suggest that the quartet is as well matched as the Amati instruments they play.

"...Their playing had all the marks of greatness...not merely in balance, but in intimate details in phrasing, and that kind of breathing together that the best quartets achieve..."

Tickets for the performance are $8 for the general public, including SIUE faculty and staff, and are available at the University Center ticket office. The cost of a ticket for SIUE students, as well as all area college, high school, and grade school students, is $1.

Admission tickets include free parking in the visitors' lot next to the University Center. For program and ticket information, interested persons may call 692-2320 or write to: University Ticket Office in Campus Box 1067, SIUE, Edwardsville 62025-1067.

No-frills 'Patty Hearst' film direct, inside look at event

By Harry Hamm
Staff affiliate

Natasha Richardson is excellent as heiress-cum-revolutionary Patty Hearst. In fact, she is perfect.

"Patty Hearst" (3½ stars) chronicles the story of Hearst following her abduction Feb. 4, 1974, by the Symbionese Liberation Army from her apartment near the University of California-Berkeley campus.

Although obviously made on a small budget, "Patty Hearst" does not resemble hurried, made-for-television exploitation films. The movie has the fortitude to present things exactly like they were and portrays the young heiress for what she apparently is: A light-headed but pleasant young lady who is glibly, easily influenced, intellectually shallow and a great follower, not much of a leader.

"Patty Hearst" is an inside look, done in workmanlike fashion, of what happened as Hearst went from being a kidnaper victim to a somewhat confused member of the SLA, an organization that suffered from its own bouts with confusion long before Hearst joined the ranks.

The film, directed by Paul Schrader, is not a docudrama, but it is not fiction either. Very few cinematic tricks or special effects are used, save for the scene of Hearst taking part in a bank robbery, which Schrader shows the audience entirely from the perspective of the bank's security cameras.

Because this movie does not try for too many pumped-up theatrics, some may find it dull, since it plainly relives a story many of us have not had time to forget.

The most powerful scene shows Hearst and two of her SLA companions hiding out in a Los Angeles motel and watching live scenes on television of the police and FBI storming the SLA hideout, a place that only luck had kept Hearst away from at the time of the fiery raid.

This movie never reaches for the sensationalism that surrounded the story when it actually occurred.

Rated R (violence). Running time: 107 minutes.

By Frank Hunter
Staff affiliate

I suggest giving a wide berth to "Murder One."

The Canadian film is respectably acted and properly grubby in tone as it focuses on a bunch of coarse killers on the lam. But whoever decided to boom the film as a docudrama along the lines of Truman Capote's "In Cold Blood" was plainly nuts.

There is little if any resemblance of this film to Capote's spellbinding, incredibly detailed story of the Herbert Clutter family, a farm family in Garden City, Kan., that perished at the hands of two merciless vagrants.

The scenario of "Murder One" is strictly exploitation stuff.

Had the picture offered some insight into the twisted minds of the Isaac brothers, this repugnant film might have been redeemed somewhat. But nothing significant is revealed in Tex Fuller's screenplay, apart from noting that the trashy mother of Carl and Billy Isaacs liked to get drunk in the car and fool around with younger men and that her boys drank beer and whiskey all day long and had a talent for holding up filling stations when they needed money and gasoline.

By the time troopers captured Carl and Billy Isaacs (James Wilder and Henry Thomas), their half-brother Wayne Coleman (Stephen Shellen) and George Dunjee (Errol Sule), a black companion from prison, the quartet had killed six members of a rural family and a college student during its mad dash through Georgia.

This chaotic tale is narrated by 16-year-old Billy Isaacs, who was talked into taking off on a joy ride by his older brother Carl, and it's all downhill as the killers methodically gun down their victims and rape the wife of one before stripping her nude in a field and shooting her.

Only Billy shows any remorse, bursting into tears after about the fourth killing and begging his brother to let him go home.

George Dunjee and Carl Isaacs and Wayne Coleman were sentenced to be executed more than 10 years ago but their cases are coming up for appeal.

Billy testified at the trial of Carl Isaacs and Wayne Coleman, and although he apparently did not kill anybody, he was sentenced to prison for 100 years.

There is no justification for making and releasing a picture like this, and the only justification for writing a review is to advise people that it probably will make them sick and very sad.

Rated R (language, violence). Running time: 95 minutes.

Mentalist appearing soon at university

Internationally known mentalist Bob Fellows, who has performed on several national television shows, will present "Mind Magic" from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 18, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville as part of National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week.

A week-long slate of activities is planned for the awareness week Oct. 17-21 in SIUE's University Center, classroom buildings and the Tower Lake Commons Building. The activities are designed to heighten awareness of substance abuse-related issues, and positive alternatives to alcohol and drug experimentation.

Fellows, who has a master's degree in religious studies from Harvard University, has also performed and lectured at hundreds of colleges, and for corporations, where he often promotes "wellness" and self-responsibility. He is a regular speaker at the National Wellness Conference and a consultant to the Cult Awareness Network.

The Alcohol Awareness week is presented at SIUE by the University Wellness Program of SIUE's Health Services, where more information may be obtained by calling 692-2855.

Henke and Donohoo vie for recorder post

By Scott Cousins
Staff affiliate

Two Madison County Board members, Homer Henke of Moro and Dan Donohoo of East Alton, are vying for the position of county recorder of deeds.

Henke, 52, is a farmer, real estate broker and auctioneer. Donohoo, 34, is a CPA (certified public accountant) with his own accounting firm in Wood River.

Both claim, for different reasons, that they are the best qualified for the position.

Henke, a Republican, has been a member of the county board since 1972.

He said he is much more qualified than his opponent because he has dealt with real estate for almost 20 years.

"My opponent has no real estate background, and he has had no dealings with the office," Henke said. "I have used the office for the past 20 years."

Donohoo has been a county board member since 1984. In the March Democratic primary he won a three-way race, defeating the longtime incumbent, Ronald P. "Rink" Lucas, who held the office for 16 years, and Terry "Bones" Altan, supervisor of Collinsville Township.

Donohoo said experience in

Homer Henke

real estate is not as important as Henke believes. "I feel I offer experience in record keeping," he said.

Donohoo said he is also familiar with real estate law, and has taken enough required courses to obtain a license to sell real estate if he wishes to take the examination.

"The race boils down to 'who will be the best manager' of the office, he said.

Both candidates said the new recorder should look into automation of the office.

"We should do anything we can to increase efficiency and service to the general public," Henke said. "That needs to be investigated."

Donohoo said he has had more experience with information and computer systems than his opponent. He said this would benefit the office, especially if a new Madison County administration building is constructed.

If there is a new county building, Donohoo said, the recorder's office should be located and equipped in such a way that it would be easier to communicate and share information with other county offices, something that is difficult at the present time.

To improve service and cut costs, Donohoo suggested installation of computer terminals in title companies and charging a user fee. This would give the companies, the biggest users of the recorder of deeds office, direct access to information.

Donohoo also said an attempt would be made to set priorities on requests from citizens.

At present, the office has a three- to five-day turnaround for customer requests, he said. By prioritizing requests, Donohoo said, there could be a one-day turnaround on important items.

Donohoo referred to Henke as a "formidable opponent."

"Although this is a Democratic county, there are no sure things," he said. "If elected, Henke said, he would resign his post on the county board. Donohoo's board term expires this year."

Officers' actions praised after armed confrontation

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — Swift action by two police officers during an armed confrontation Oct. 7 was commended by the Board of Trustees at the Oct. 11 meeting.

The incident resulted in the arrest of Eugene T. Tatum, 49, St. Louis, who was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and resisting arrest.

Patrolman Rick Hays was refueling a squad car at the Phillips 66 Gas Station, 3710 Illinois 111, when he noticed a Missouri vehicle being driven slowly through the parking area.

Several people were at the gasoline pumps and others were in the store at the time, he said.

A man, later identified as Tatum, got out of the car and went to the station's employees' entrance, where he opened the door and started to walk in.

Hays advised Anthony Middleton, an employee, to tell the man to use the correct entrance door.

Middleton went to the side door and yelled that the man appeared to have a gun in his pocket. Hays saw the man stand next to the employees' entrance and allegedly pull a snubnose weapon from his jacket pocket.

Hays unholstered his service revolver and told the man to drop the gun and place his hands on his head.

The man dropped the weapon back into his pocket and started laughing. He put his hands on his head, but allegedly kept trying to take them off and later refused to put his hands behind his back.

A .38 caliber blue steel Smith and Wesson revolver, loaded with five live rounds, allegedly was in the man's possession.

Patrolman Dan Abel and Sgt. Dan McKinney arrived at the scene and Tatum was taken into custody with minimal force.

"Officer Hays' actions show that he acted with coolness and the professionalism of a veteran police officer," McKinney said in a report to trustees.

"His swift action defused an armed confrontation that could have ended in possible loss of life without endangering any bystanders while disregarding his own safety."

Abel's action in completing the arrest with minimal force was also noted by McKinney, who said Tatum tried to fight officers' attempts to complete the arrest and provoke them into a fight during the booking process.

Tatum, who said he was looking for a horse-race track, was lodged briefly at the Madison City Jail and later was returned to Pontoon Beach, where he posted $204 cash bail and was released.

Hays joined the department as a police dispatcher Sept. 24, 1985, and was appointed patrolman Sept. 22, 1987.

Abel was hired as a patrolman May 10 and remains on probationary status until Dec. 1.

Comments from residents about the quickness of the officers' response and the efficiency with which the incident was handled have been received by the department, Police Chief Chet Ballew said.

Warriors' offensive outburst not enough vs. SLUH, 31-12

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — How about 340 yards of offense? How about 248 yards rushing? How about 14 first downs?

Those have been statistics unheard of for the Warrior football team since 1986. But those were the unofficial stats on Friday in the Homecoming game against St. Louis U. High. Unfortunately, the most important statistic still didn't favor Granite City.

SLUH used 287 yards rushing and three touchdowns from senior tailback Mike Prusaczyk, plus some outstanding kicking by Brian Leahy for a 31-12 win at Memorial Stadium. The Warriors are 0-7 (0-3 on the field), while the Junior Billikens topped their record to 5-2.

"There were some good things out there," said Warrior coach John Yates. "But the scoreboard still tells the story."

Still, since a lack of offense has been the glaring problem for the past year and a half, there was lots to cheer about for a large and enthusiastic Homecoming crowd. Senior Randy Odom ran for 118 yards on 10 carries and scored both touchdowns — one an 80-yard sprint in the third quarter. Senior Jeff Kohler picked up 87 yards on the ground.

And junior Joe Wallace, the erstwhile quarterback, took a big step toward establishing himself as a receiver to be reckoned with. Wallace caught seven passes for 108 yards and didn't drop one.

"Joe's getting there," said Yates. "He can definitely be an asset to us as a receiver." The bad news was that the Warriors couldn't contain Prusaczyk, a 5-10, 161-pound senior who hadn't played since the season's second week. He got the ball on almost every play until he came out with seven minutes to play. He scored on runs of 23, 64 and 42 yards and kept pounding away.

"We've really missed Mike," said first-year SLUH coach Gary Kornfeld. "He had a broken bone in his foot the second week of the year, and this was really his first game back. Our offense is structured around him. And this was the best night our offensive line has had in a long time."

"He sure was durable," said Yates. "We hadn't seen him. We didn't get very good cornerback play. He was able to get outside and turn the corner for those long runs."

And then there was Leahy. He's the cousin of New York Jets kicker Pat Leahy, the leading active scorer in the National Football League. Pat Leahy went to St. Louis and went to St. Louis University. His cousin in Brian seems to be keeping the family tradition alive. He easily made all four extra points, boomed kickoffs through the end zone and blasted a 50-yard field goal in the third quarter, tying a 12-year-old SLUH record.

Brian plays on the soccer team for us," said Kornfeld. "In fact, we didn't have him last week because he was playing here (in the Tournament of Champions)."

Warrior sophomore quarterback Bobby Thomas had a good night as long as he was finding Wallace. Thomas was 7 of 15 overall for 108 yards, but he threw five interceptions. Two of them were Hal Marys to end each half. But the other three were ill-advised tosses into crowds.

"Bobby's going through sophomore-itis," said Yates. "It seems like I'm always breaking in a sophomore quarterback. But if we can keep it close, we can keep it close."

Warriors ease past winless Cahokia, 5-0

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Gene Baker started a trend last year when he scheduled no games for the week after the Tournament of Champions.

The Warriors traditionally had not always fared well in that week, which was usually Homecoming week. It was a week of practice and Homecoming festivities last year, and finally a game on Saturday.

This year really wasn't any different. The Warriors practiced all week. The only difference Thursday was that practice was moved to Cahokia, and the result counted on the win-loss record. Granite City rested many regulars and cruised to a no-hum 5-0 win over the winless Cahokia Comanches.

The easy win lifted the Warriors to 4-2 in games played this year and 4-14 overall. Officially, the shots on goal were recorded as 24-0, although the Comanches had one brief flurry near the end of the game when senior keeper Mike Taylor, who picked up his first shutout, and his defenders had to ward off an attempt to ruin the whitewashing.

"Taylor's play was a plus," said Baker as "practice" wound down. "He handled everything he needed to."

That wasn't much. The game generally had all the intensity of a Michael Dukakis speech. Fans seemed to lounge wearily in the

Homecoming magic works again as Trojans slip by Freeburg, 12-6

By Mike Blackshere
Correspondent

MADISON — The Trojans called upon their Homecoming magic Friday as they defeated the Freeburg Midgets, 12-6.

Madison resurrected its Homecoming tradition six years ago and each year it has been a joyous occasion. Don Smith encouraged bringing it back when he arrived. Smith's teams are 6-0 in Homecoming games.

The Trojans came into this game with a 1-5 record and the Homecoming spirit appeared to be in jeopardy. Smith wanted to try something different to get his team untracked, so he went to the wishbone offense. The wishbone proved to be good luck as Tony Treadway scored both touchdowns as the Trojans improved to 2-5. Freeburg dropped to 2-5.

"It is really nice to get this wishbone," Smith said. "We haven't been blocking well on our offensive line this year, so I went to the wishbone to help get some better blocking for our running backs. We have three good running backs (Ian Smith, Craig Ingram and Treadway), and in the wishbone we can go to any one of them. The defense has to play us honestly because they don't know who is going to get the ball or where we will come at them."

Madison's opponents have often cheated to the outside on defense to take away the Trojans' speed. Madison rushed very effectively against Freeburg by first establishing the inside run and then occasionally sneaking to the outside.

The Trojans rushed 41 times for 189 yards — 4.6 yards per carry. They did not attempt a pass and only fumbled once.

Freeburg gained 127 yards rushing on 37 carries and 51 yards passing on 4 of 8 attempts. The Midgets also only turned the ball over once, on an interception, but it was a costly mistake on their last possession with four minutes left in the game.

Freeburg coach Dennis Dalke made no excuses after the game. "They played better than we did tonight," Dalke said. "They ran harder, blocked better, and they deserved to win. Our defense did not execute very well. We gave them three or four yards on every play if we played again, I wouldn't do anything differently. We would just have to execute better."

Freeburg had the first possession, and Madison made one of its few mistakes on the third play. Freeburg was held to only two yards on third and six, but Madison was called for facemasking, which kept their drive alive.

It turned out to be their only scoring drive of the game. On the 14th play of a seven-minute drive, senior John Higgins ran it in from a yard out and the Midgets took a 6-0 lead.

But Madison came right back on its first possession. The Trojans engineered a 56-yard, 10-play drive that tied the score at 6-6 with 40 seconds left in the first quarter.

The drive was highlighted by two 16-yard runs — one by Ian Smith and one for the touchdown by Treadway, a sophomore. The Trojans completed the scoring on their next possession. They got the ball back on their own 43 and took it 57 yards on 14 plays to go ahead for good, 12-6.

The running game was very consistent as they made three third-down conversions and one fourth-down conversion. Once again, it was a 16-yard run by Ian Smith that set up the touchdown for Treadway, from four yards out.

The Trojans looked as if they were going to put the game away in the third quarter. After a 46-yard run by Ingram, the Trojans were quickly inside the Freeburg 20. But Freeburg got off the hook when Treadway fumbled and it seemed as if the momentum was changing.

Freeburg had poor field position. But Madison took the momentum back with a great punt and an interception.

late afternoon sun as the Warriors went through their paces. Since the Warriors couldn't beat the Comanches (0-1) simply by showing up, senior striker Scott Stone was asked to go out and get a couple of early goals to make it official. He takes orders well. Stone scored twice in the first quarter, then retired to the bench for a quiet afternoon of spectating.

"Well, I was only in there five minutes," said Stone when asked how he only scored twice. "They told me I would be in there for the first half. But I don't mind."

"I told Scott I would give him a half to score five goals," said Baker. "But after he got two I thought it would be better to get him out. I think he felt cheated."

Stone pledged before the season started to improve on the nine goals he scored as a junior. He now has five despite all the games lost to the strike. His first goal was a strange one as an easy shot from the right side beat Cahokia keeper Steve Ball to the short side at 8:15. Senior Eric Achenbach got the assist.

Stone scored again at 16:00 when Chris Ryan beat Ball to a loose ball and volleyed one over his head. Jim Hawkins got the assist as he flicked the ball to Stone, who headed one into the empty net.

Ball made some good saves or else the score might have matched last year's, when the Warriors pounded the Comanches 10-0.

Junior Nick Zeffoff scored his first varsity goal on a pass from Achenbach at 25:00. It remained 3-0 until the early minutes of the fourth quarter, when junior Chris Mance scored from right in front on a pass from senior Brian Bjorkman.

Bjorkman scored again a few minutes later when Comanche played a bouncing ball and he blasted it past Ball from point-blank range.

"Zeffoff had a positive afternoon and Dan Terrell was very good at the sweeper position," Baker said.

But there wasn't much else to say as players like Troy Adamitis, John Yanaskirk, Chris Nolan, Chris Ryan, Stom, Bob Strubberg, Chad Lignou, Bobby Cheung and others played very little or not at all.

The Warriors had three corner kicks to none for Cahokia. Each team had only five fouls, accurately reflecting the sleepy manner in which the game was played.

NOTES: Play should heat up considerably this week. After hosting Belleville West on Saturday.

with our running game more."

And the running game was working with Kohler, Odum and Chris Bartling. And it took the Junior Bulls a while to get going as Bartling and Terry Noud had early interceptions. But SLUH recovered a fumble at the Warrior 39 with 3:30 left in the first half and went 39 yards in six plays, with Prusaczyk going the final 23 with 6:31 left in the first half.

The Warriors came right back, going 56 yards in nine plays. Odum had a 24-yard run, the scored from a yard out with 2:12 left in the half. But Wallace's extra point was blocked. Prusaczyk then went 64 yards down the right sideline two plays later and it was 14-0 at halftime.

Prusaczyk carried 11 times in 15 plays as SLUH went 66 yards for a score to start the second half. Quarterback Tom Purcell day, the Warriors close out the regular season by hosting McCluer North on Monday and SLUH on Thursday. Those are the teams which have knocked Granite City out of the Tournament of Champions the last two years, and both teams are ranked highly in area polls. The Junior Bulls beat the Stars in the Tournament of Champions semifinals last week before losing to the Cadets in the title game. Junior varsity action at the Gauntlet on both nights is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. CBC, by the way, lost its first game of the year, 1-0 to Aquinas Mercy, on Wednesday. Final note on the Tournament of Champions: Baker noted how competitive the tournament was. Not only did no team get through without at least a tie, but CBC's 1-0 tie to the team in the country allowed seven goals in its five games.

DISGUISE: Nick Zeffoff (13) of the Warriors seems to be ready for Halloween with a soccer ball disguise. Zeffoff scored his first varsity goal in Thursday's 5-0 win at Cahokia. That's Carl Chomko (15) looking on.

smuck in from a yard out with 4:34 left in the quarter. Greg Colombo intercepted Thomas and Prusaczyk went 42 yards on the first play and suddenly it was 20-0.

Odum burst through the left side and went down the sideline 80 yards on the Warriors' first play on the next series.

"Dave Tatum had an 80-yard run for us against Cahokia in 1985," said Yates. "I didn't think I would ever see one like that for us again."

But Prusaczyk helped drive SLUH to the Warrior 33, then Leahy came in and blasted his 50-yarder with 36 seconds left in the third quarter for the final 31-2 score.

"It sure helps the offense to have a kicker like that," Yates said. "We have a kicker in Kory Burton who can do things like that, but he's hurt."

Levin nears field goal record

Granite City's Brian Levin is closing in on the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics record for career field goals.

Levin, a senior at Peru State (Neb.) College, kicked three field goals and tallied 13 points in a 37-22 win over Chadron State on Oct. 8. Levin converted from distances of 50, 37 and 32 yards to push his career total to 45 field goals. He needs three to tie and four to break the NAIA record of 48 held by Bill May of Clarion (Pa.) University.

Levin's 50-yarder in the first quarter pushed the Bobcats' lead to 10-0 and his 37-yarder made it 20-0. The Bobcats were 5-1, with a five-game winning streak, heading into Saturday's home game against Northwestern Iowa, which is ranked 13th in the NAIA Division II poll. It's the Tri-State Athletic Conference opener for Peru State.

Levin was Peru State's offensive player of the week nominee in the conference and District 11.
